

<http://www.decouvrir-montfarville.fr>

Anneville-en Saire

Anneville-en-Saire: is crossed by the River Saire .It was once active in industries. In addition to several mills, the Town, theGreat Mill, the “Parquet” ( colza oil ), there were many weavers and dyers , attracted by the river flowing near, providing the running water necessary for their business . In 1821 was discovered a small foundry of Celtic objects . The Mansion of the Tourps and the House of Anneville , both private , are to be seen .